FINAL ACCEPTANCE:

Final acceptance of entries in the The Opal Gallery exhibition is up to the Curator's discretion after viewing the delivered framed prints. If a print does not match the appearance of the JPEG entry, or if the print quality or the framing are not suitable quality for gallery presentation, the Curator may ask the artist to replace whichever element is not suitable.

SALES:

Exhibited work will be available for sale (unless the artist designates certain entries NFS). The price for each framed print is entirely up to each artist to decide. The Opal Gallery will retain a commission of 40% on all sales that occur during the exhibit or which occur later as a direct result of the exhibit.

USE OF IMAGES:

All entrants agree that any image they submit to The Opal Gallery may be used for marketing and promotional purposes directly related to The Opal Gallery. This use may include publication in any Opal Gallery publications, printed materials, advertisements, or electronic media, including but not limited to The Opal Gallery web site, catalog, DVD, magazine, and gallery shows. Any image used by The Opal Gallery shall carry a credit line of the artist. Copyright and all other rights remain that of the artist. Also, The Opal Gallery is not responsible for damage to prints or frames while under their care.
